Congratulatory Address

Department of Industrial Automation:

Please allow us to congratulate you on behalf of all students and teachers in our department for your anniversary celebration.

The University of Chemical Technology and Metallurgy is the cradle of the senior technology talents. In such scholarly environment, your department is devoted to the cultivation of Bachelor, Master and PhD in automation and information technologies, and has trained a large number of excellent students since 1970 when it was founded.

Great development in science research also gave a firm basic of talents cultivation. Significant achievements have been gained in the areas of Process Control, Design of experiments, identification of control systems and quality control, and Information technology for automation and control. Moreover, your Department has participated in more than ten international projects.

In those 40 years, the department has strengthened in all aspects. Remarkable landmarks have been set in talent's training, scientific research and cultural diffusion.

We sincerely hope that you will gain greater achievements.

May the celebration succeed!
